NAVAL DISCIPLINE.

There are few persons outside of the navy who have any idea of the spirit of old fogeyism—we can find no other term that will express exactly what we mean—that to a very great extent governs that branch of the military service. The navy is in a great measure cut off from the ordinary influences of American society, its officers are thrown a great deal among foreigners, and without in the slightest degree imputing a want of patriotism to the navy, we have no hesitation in saying that it is too much under the influence of foreign ideas for its own good.

The case of Surgeon Green of the Nipsic is a case in point that has elicited but one opinion from the newspapers of the country, with the exception of the Washington Chronicle, which has apparently constituted itself the organ of Admiral Porter and the Navy Department. Surgeon Green was court-martialed and sentenced to a degrading punishment because he declined to take a man's name off the sick list when ordered to do so by his commanding officer, Secretary Robeson, with an appreciation of the great injustice of this sentence and of the merits of the case, remitted the major part of the penalties imposed by the court and let off the offending surgeon with a reprimand.

We do not intend to dispute the authority of the commanding officer to order all the sick men in his ship on duty if he thinks it necessary to do so, and indeed there may be times when the commander would be perfectly justified in such an act. But where from a mere whim he endeavors to supersede the surgeon, it is nothing more than brutal tyranny.

The result of a policy of which this case is but an example is, that it is almost impossible to get competent men to enter the medical corps of the navy. The standard of fitness is high, as it ought to be, and gentlemen who are competent to pass the required examination do not care to submit to such indignities as will certainly be offered merely for the sake of a very moderate salary and the privilege of wearing the uniform of the naval service.

The Chronicle makes some reference to discreditable articles that have appeared in certain Philadelphia papers, and deprecates the washing of dirty naval linen in public. A portion of this we suppose is intended for THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, and we are forced to admit that the articles on this subject that have appeared in our columns are discreditable, not to us, certainly, but to the Navy Department and the men who control its policy.

these things are exposed and held up to scorn and ridicule by the independent press of the country.

We contend that, in the case under consideration, the sentence was unjust, and that the real culprit in the case was the commander of the vessel, and not the surgeon. Such a sentence can have no other effect than to drive competent medical men out of the navy, and to put in their place those who will have no will or opinion of their own, but who will be ready to carry out the orders of the commanding officer, no matter how unjust or improper they may be.

GREELY'S LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE.

HORACE GREELY'S letter of acceptance, which we published yesterday, is a characteristic document. He takes the nomination for an office he does not want. His partisan friends of the Empire State have followed their usual system in thrusting upon him an undesirable honor, despite the care they usually display in withholding desirable rewards. As a candidate for United States Senator he was contemptuously rejected, but the State Comptroller has been ruthlessly forced upon him, and his worst enemies can scarcely wish him a more undesirable fate than that which would be involved in his election and subsequent attempt to conscientiously discharge the duties of the position.

Independent of the patriotic feeling which induces Greely to yield to the request of his political friends on general principles, he is deeply moved by a desire to strengthen the New York State constitutional amendment securing impartial suffrage. He earnestly calls upon the Republicans who are dissatisfied with the distribution of the national patronage, and even upon those who are unwilling to support himself, to at least vote for an extension of the right of suffrage to the impetuous citizens of African descent who do not now enjoy the blessed privilege of swelling the contents of the New York ballot-boxes, and he warns the Democracy that, in view of the action of their Southern brethren in nominating negro candidates, their line of battle as advocates of a white man's government is irretrievably broken.

THE BROOKS CASE.

Two of the parties accused of complicity in the attempt to assassinate Revenue Detective Brooks, figured in the Court of Quarter Sessions yesterday, through their counsel, Messrs. Mann and Cassidy. The employment of these adroit criminal lawyers indicates that a desperate defense is to be made, and that no pains will be spared to discover a loop-hole of escape for Hugh Marra and James Dougherty. In the proceedings yesterday, they sought a preliminary hearing, so that they could learn the character of the evidence in the possession of the Commonwealth, and, if possible, secure a reduction of bail. As their clients, however, were subjected to the imputation of being fugitives from justice, who had fled beyond the boundaries of the State, and could only be brought back upon a requisition based on an indictment previously found, the modest proposition of Mann and Cassidy that they should enjoy all the rights extended to ordinary criminals, despite this little circumstance, was effectually combated by Assistant District Attorney Hagert, and overruled by Judge Ludlow. This movement failing, the prisoners were arraigned. A plea of not guilty was entered by their counsel, and by mutual agreement the trial is to commence on Wednesday of next week.

WORK, BUT NO TALK.—Our Democratic contemporary this morning cautioned its readers against talking at the polls, and exhorted them to fill in the whole of their time with work. "Let there be no discussion at the polls," ran the homily. "It is an idle waste of time, and often leads to breaches of the peace." In pursuance of this advice, a Republican whose vote was challenged early in the day, in one of the central wards, was taken by the collar and dragged out of the line. There was no parley about the matter, no opportunity given him to substantiate his claims. A discussion of his right to a vote might have led to a breach of the peace, and hence no discussion was allowed. "Order, quiet, and a full vote," said the Democratic organ, "are what the Democrats want to-day," and in this particular instance they did what they could towards securing these three desirable results, with special reference to the latter.

THE TERRIBLE FENIANS.—Last night there was a Fenian ball in this city, but it appeared to create no particular excitement in our midst. Over the border, however, its effects were disastrous in the extreme, the whole Dominion being thrown into an undue commotion. The entire volunteer force in her Britannic Majesty's American domain received orders to be ready for active duty in the field without delay. The scare appears to be complete and universal.

"DEMOCRATS," shouted our Democratic contemporary this morning, "do not fail to vote the Legislative tickets in your district. We must have the Legislature, as well as the Governor, in order to effect a thorough reform in the State." In the Third district, the "regular" Democrat ticket bears the name of Samuel Joseph, in the Ninth that of Samuel D. Dailey, and in the Thirteenth that of Michael Mullen. These three worthy aspirants for election to the Legislature have been tried at Harrisburg already, and have proven themselves to be reformers of the most exemplary and wholesome sort.

"EVERY DEMOCRATIC VOTE in the city," exclaimed our Democratic contemporary this morning, "must be polled to-day." This was doubtless intended as a gentle hint to the Democratic gentlemen from Baltimore who arrived in the city last night for the express purpose of doing this very thing.

CUBA.

A British Opinion of the War.—From the London Star, Sept. 27. While Spain is vainly prolonging a hopeless struggle in Cuba and foolishly prating of war with the United States, the blood of her bravest citizens is flowing in the streets of an important provincial city. At Tarragona, a few days ago, the Governor's secretary, who with rash impetuosity presented himself at a republican meeting, was murdered by an excited mob. Now a telegram announces that in the same town the volunteers have been ordered to engage in a hand-to-hand fight, which lasted the whole of Saturday night. The volunteers, it is said, had manifested republican tendencies, and were ordered to disband. As might have been expected, they refused compliance with this order, and the result has been a sanguinary struggle, which resulted in their defeat. Many lives have been lost and the prisoners confined on board the ships in the harbor. The plague stricken colony of Fernando P. will probably be very strikingly shown in the return of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property of the several counties of the State of New York, which has been furnished by the State assessor to the New York Herald and published in a hand-to-hand fight of this present month of September.

ENGLAND.

Her Material Wealth.—From the London Star (John Bright's organ), Sept. 27. The marvelous prosperity of the United States is very strikingly shown in the return of the assessed valuation of the real and personal property of the several counties of the State of New York, which has been furnished by the State assessor to the New York Herald and published in a hand-to-hand fight of this present month of September. Taking the dollar to be worth three shillings of our money, which is about its current value, that valuation amounts to the enormous sum of $2,075,115,198 sterling. The population of the State of New York was in 1865 3,831,777. Dividing the sum above given by this latter figure, we find that the taxable wealth of the State equals 472,108.44. for every individual in the population. The amount of property and profits assessed to income tax in England, Scotland, and Wales for the year ending the 31st of March, 1869, according to the "Statesman's Year Book" for 1869, amounted to £301,359,750, or in round numbers to $1,226,000,000 more than that of the State of New York at present.
